The list as submitted to President Roosevelt by the General Board of the Army on Brevet Commissions, of which General MacArthur was president, contained the name of Theodore Roosevelt, recommended for brevet commissions as colonel and brigadier general for conspicuous gallantry in action before Santiago, but the President erased his name before sending the list to the Senate. STRICKEN WITH APOPLEXY.
Samuel Whalen, Colored, Suffers a Fatal Attack While at Work.

While working in the stables of S. Kann Sons & Co., located in an alley between E and F, Second and Third Streets northwest, early this morning Samuel Whalen, colored, forty years of age, living at 831 Fenton place northwest, was suddenly stricken with apoplexy. He was sent to the Casualty Hospital. Although every effort was made by the surgeons to revive him, their efforts were of no avail. Whalen died shortly after having received the institution. The body was removed to the morgue and Coroner Nevitt was notified.

WATCHING ANNIE BROOKS.
Physicians Keep Close Eye on the Would-be Suicide.

The District Commissioners have today under consideration the report of Mr. W. X. Stevens and Officer William J. Kenney, upon the attempted suicide of Annie Brooks at the Bathing Beach a few days ago.

Accompanying the papers is also a report of the Sanitary Officer of the Police Department, Mr. J. A. Frank, who states that he has been twice in conference with the doctors at the Emergency Hospital with reference to the mental condition of the girl. He reports that the physicians still have the girl under observation, but are as yet unable to state whether or not she is mentally unbalanced.

As the official report will, therefore, in all probability not contain any of the severe criticisms he is alleged to have made upon his superior officers, there will be nothing tangible upon which the President or Secretary of War can base, if they so desired, an official reprimand of the Commanding General. They are also, it is held, debarred from taking cognizance of the unofficial reports of his strictures because of the privileged character of the testimony given before a Senate committee in the privacy of executive session. An attempt to punish an officer for giving an expression of his opinion of a measure before Congress at the request of a committee would, it is said, lead to very vigorous action by Congress for the protection of its witnesses, and in defense of its own authority.

Open Rupture May Ensnare.
There is no doubt, however, that the incident will tend to increase the friction

HUNDREDS WITNESS DRILL.

Final Preparations at Fort Myer for New York Contests.

Crowds of spectators were attracted to Fort Myer this afternoon by the exhibition drill of the artillery and cavalry.

This was the last public appearance before the participants start to attend the tournament to be held in Madison Square Garden, New York, March 24-29.

The Fort Myer troops will compete against all the "crack" cavalry and artillery companies in the United States. The Fort Myer boys will leave this city Sunday night for New York.

MILES' PLAN WORDS STIR ARMY CIRCLES

sensational. He submitted a long, carefully prepared argument, which was itself in printed form. It was after he had concluded the reading of this statement that he was asked certain questions by members of the committee, and in replying to these enquiries he denounced the bill in strong and vehement language. Senator Quarles turned to the stenographer and directed that these statements be omitted from the official record.

In view of this Secretary Root may be compelled to call upon General Miles for an explanation of the public accounts of his testimony, which include the remarks omitted from the record, and ask him if he is correctly reported in the newspapers. Should General Miles stand by his statements the question of administering a rebuke to him will then be considered. Officials believe that there is no doubt that this rebuke would come in the form of summary retirement.

To Protect These Who Testify.
As the official report will, therefore, in all probability not contain any of the severe criticisms he is alleged to have made upon his superior officers, there will be nothing tangible upon which the President or Secretary of War can base, if they so desired, an official reprimand of the Commanding General. They are also, it is held, debarred from taking cognizance of the unofficial reports of his strictures because of the privileged character of the testimony given before a Senate committee in the privacy of executive session. An attempt to punish an officer for giving an expression of his opinion of a measure before Congress at the request of a committee would, it is said, lead to very vigorous action by Congress for the protection of its witnesses, and in defense of its own authority.

Open Rupture May Ensnare.
There is no doubt, however, that the incident will tend to increase the friction which has existed for so long between General Miles on the one hand and the President and Secretary of War on the other. Beginning under this Administration, with General Miles' expression of opinion on the Schley case, which called forth a stinging rebuke from President Roosevelt, the breach was widened by the publication of the Commanding General's proposition that he be sent to the Philippines and settle the troubles there by choosing delegations of Cubans and Porto Ricans to mix with the Filipino people and assure them of the beneficent rule of the United States.

Now, there is likely to be an open rupture on account of the report that General Miles told the Senate committee yesterday that the pending army reorganization bill was framed by the Secretary of War for the express purpose of allowing him to promote his personal favorites and because of his statement that under it it would be possible for the President to create a military despotism by promoting his favorites of his own party, so that in case there should be political trouble, the President could rely upon his partisans to do his will.

Authority for Retirement.
This kind of talk is not palatable to General Miles' superiors, and while they may feel themselves debarred from basing any official action upon this testimony, it is believed to be quite probable that the President will avail himself in the near future of this authority to place General Miles on the retired list. Section 1244 of the revised statutes says:

"When an officer has served forty-five years as a commissioned officer, or is sixty-two years old, he may be retired from active service at the discretion of the President."

It is the force clearly within the power of the President to retire him at this time if he should so decide.

INSPECT ELEVATORS AND FIRE-ESCAPES

A Special Committee Assigned to This Work.

Conditions of Hotels and Theatres in the District Quota Satisfactory as a General Rule.

The District Commissioners have appointed a special committee of inspection, consisting of Mr. Snowden Ashford, inspector of buildings; Mr. R. W. Dutton, Chief Engineer of the Fire Department; Mr. A. M. Lawson, inspector of elevators and fire-escapes, and Mr. A. Lettwich Sinclair, Assistant City Solicitor. This committee is to make an examination of the condition of fire-escapes, electric wiring, and elevators in the theatres, hotels, apartment houses, etc., of the city.

Some time ago Commissioner Macfarland directed a careful inspection of houses of a semi-public nature, with reference to the safety of the appliances mentioned. This work has been going on for two or three months, and written reports have been made of the condition of the theatres, hotels, etc. These investigations were made by Messrs. William T. Belt, assistant chief engineer, and Sidney Pieber, fire marshal, for the Fire department, and Messrs. W. C. Allen, the electrical engineer, and Mr. W. E. Bloch, for the Electric Department.

The purpose in appointing the special committee of inspection is for it to go over the reports of the inspections already made and to pass upon the condition of the buildings and the efficiency of the apparatus intended for the comfort, convenience and safety of the people within the said buildings. Other inspections will be made where doubtful conditions exist, and the Commissioners, when they receive the findings of the committee, will be in position to enforce obedience with the regulations where any fault exists.

It is understood that the results of the inspections made were in the main satisfactory, and it was found that in all the buildings used to house the public for various purposes were in a safe condition. The electric wiring in a few instances was found out of repair, but as soon as the matter was brought to the attention of the responsible owners or agents of the buildings the fault was corrected.

The object of the Commissioners in this investigation is to find out whether there are buildings in the city that are unsafe, and, if so, to require them to be made safe, in order that the people who frequent them may be protected as much as possible at all times.

MUST PETITION FOR SIDEWALK.
Superintendent Hacker Unable to Act in Brightwood Case.

The Brightwood Park Citizens' Association recently wrote to the District Commissioners complaining of the condition of the sidewalk on Twelfth Street, between Brightwood Avenue and Eighth Street, Brightwood Park, and asking that repairs be made.

Mr. Morris Hacker, Superintendent of Roads, has reported that no repairs are practicable at this time, that the sidewalk would not be washed away, and that temporary board walks can be laid only in localities where permanent walks have been ordered and are awaiting construction. He says the only remedy in the premises is for the property owners to get up a petition for a cement sidewalk.
